MRS. HENDERSON

IS DEAD.

Lovely Woman Dies At The Home Of Her Daughter In Irvington Friday Morning.

SURVIVED BY FOUR CHILDREN.

On Friday morning, near the noon hour, Mrs. Nannie Henderson, widow of Mr. Peyton Henderson, quietly breathed her last. She had been very frail since she suffered a stroke of paralysis about two years ago, but she was not confined to her bed except on an occasion of unusual exhaustion or brief suffering. She had been cheerful and engaged in bright conversation with friends and loved ones on Tuesday afternoon, so that her going away was unexpected. She was greatly beloved for her rare sweetness of character and her keen intelligence. She was a New England woman, bred in Vermont and came to Kentucky many years ago with two sisters. She was a teacher of great ability who loved her work. During her last days the past winter she has taken great delight in teaching her little granddaughter. The child's progress was a source of much pleasure to her. She was in her seventy-third year. She had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Nora Board, for some years. Her surviving children are Ernest Henderson, Mrs. Nora Board, Irvington; Mrs. Hugh Conley, Birmingham, Ala.; and Mr. Richard Henderson, of Boston.

SIMPLE.

Directions To Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable Home Mixture.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Sassailla, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the one of which will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

Model Citizen And Good Officer.

In announcing Hon. Jas. R. Higdon as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Attorney, we can very heartily say that he has at all times guarded the very best interests of the county and thrown all at his vim and ability into the prosecution of the evil doers. Certainly he is better equipped now to fill the place than he ever was before. No man can say that he has not been vigilant and attentive to business. No one will urge that he is not deserving. He is a model citizen and a good officer, and if he is re-elected he will continue at his post with the same fidelity that has characterized his tenure of office. — Hancock Clarion.

STOMACH DISTRESS.

And All Misery From Indigestion Vanishes Five Minutes Later.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead on your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 60 cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take one triangle after supper tonight. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Bloating or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for all stomach misery because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

BEARD BROS'. BREEDING STOCK

HARDINSBURG, KENTUCKY

In offering to the public our breeding stock for 1909 we can say that never before have we been able to offer our patrons such advantages as we can this time. We purchased Highland Glenworth last season and he is recognized as one of the purest bred stallions in America. It requires a large investment to bring such as this to our county and we feel that the farmers should show their appreciation of our efforts to improve the stock of our county by their liberal patronage. Our service fees are the smallest for this class of stock ever offered to the people. Your careful consideration of our claim on your patronage will be highly appreciated.

HIGHLAND GLENWORTH

American Saddle Horse Breeder's Association, No. 3196.

For Highland Glenworth we have only to say that he is the highest styled, truest acting, finest finished and richest bred saddle stallion money would buy. Horsemen familiar with Highland Denmark, Monte Christo, Black Squirrel and Chester Dare, know that each was the champion of the ring and also of the stud each in his day. No other stallion, living or dead, can claim all these great horses for lineal sires, and Highland Glenworth's dam, grand dam and great grand dam were all noted mares—productions from mating by the shrewdest horsemen ever known to Kentucky. It is no surprise that Highland Glenworth is one of the leading sires of the country, as nothing but the hottest blood courses his veins and no cold cross anywhere in his pedigree to crop out in a colt.

PEDIGREE:

Highland Glenworth is a blood bay stallion, 16 hands high, black points, foaled 1902, sired by Highland Denmark 730, by Black Squirrel 58, by Black Eagle 74 out of Mollie; Black Eagle was by King William 67 out of Kitty Richards; Mollie was by Giltner's Highlander out of Bettie. Highland Denmark 730 was out of Miss Gravy, by Dave Akin 775, by Richmond out of daughter of Wagner, Jr. First dam, Annette Lee 1385, by Black Squirrel 58, second dam Nancy Lee 476, by Monte Christo 59, by Montrose 106 out of Fannie Giltner 59, third dam Nannie Garret 472, by Dave Akin 775, fourth dam Nannie.

We want to farm a few of the best mares in Breckinridge county to breed to Highland Glenworth and will be glad to negotiate with owners of high-class brood mares. See us as soon as possible. SEASON FEE $20, to insure living colt. Will also make stand at same time and place as Sporting Boy and Jack John.

SPORTING BOY

ankle. This is a grand stallion of great style, good bone and beautiful color. He is 16½ hands high and well proportioned and weighs 1300 pounds. He has the very best feet and legs, and is as well bred as any saddle stallion in America. He combines many of the characteristics of both the Morgan and Denmark families of Kentucky. He is by My Own's Boy, Jr., who is by My Own's Boy, and his dam is Belle Slaughter 382 N. S. H. R., Vol. My Own's Boy is by the grandly bred My Own, No. 1521, who was by Artist 65, and out of Lady Graves 57, who was by Mont Rose 106. Artist was by the renowned King William 67, who was by Washington Denmark 64. King William sired Black Eagle 74, who sired Black Squirrel 58, who is famous as a sire of style and good qualities, throughout Kentucky and many other states.

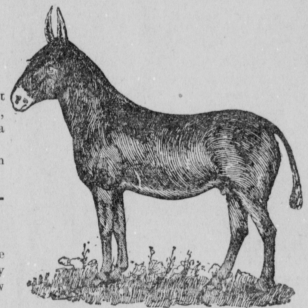

SPORTING BOY'S dam is by the renowned model and show stallion Endor 27, who had more premiums to his credit than any stallion in his day, and had for his sire King Denmark, and dam by Boliver (th.). Sporting Boy's second dam was by Warren Chief, he by Cabel's Lexington's dam was by old Tom Hal, he the founder of the pacing horse family in Kentucky and Tennessee. His second dam was by Old Copperbottom, who was one of the founders of saddle horses in Kentucky and Tennessee. Sporting Boy not only possesses the blood line, but has all the qualities in action and beauty. He is a saddle horse from a walk to all gaits, and in a trot he is a trotter and in a rack he is a wonder. He is absolutely sound and has proven a sure breeder. Sporting Boy will make the season of 1909 at $12.50 to insure a living colt.

BLACK WARRIOR JOHN

(Known as the Miller Jack)

Black Warrior John is one of the best breeders and one of the finest jacks in Kentucky, 15½ hands high, weighs 1,000 pounds, and is a sure foal getter.

Black Warrior John will make the season of 1909 at $10 to insure a living colt.

Important Notice

Net Wholly Careless.

Thomas Chett was a meek but careless clerk who, through no greater fault than carelessness, was continually blundering in his work. His most usual mistake was to misdirect letters, either by substituting a wrong street number or by writing, say, "Cal." for "Col." One day his employer laid on his desk a letter which had been over a month in the mails without reaching its destination, and all because of Thomas' error.

"Now, this has got to stop," said his employer. "Such delays waste time and money. If you had used an envelope which hadn't had our address in the corner, we might never have known where this letter went to."

"That's true," assented the humble clerk. "But I am always careful to use that kind of envelope just for that reason."

Being a little slow of comprehension, he did not understand why his patient employer bit his lip and turned away smiling.

Reasons For Cannibalism.

According to a writer in a French review, there are three causes for cannibalism. It is due either to necessity, pleasure or fashion. Twenty per cent of the cannibals, we learn, eat their dead to honor them. The ancient Egyptians belonged to this class. This is sentimental anthropophagy. Nineteen per cent eat their great warriors to obtain their courage. This is designated egotistic anthropophagy. Twenty-nine per cent eat human flesh to punish their enemies and 32 per cent because it is the fashion or because they consider the flesh savory.—Indianaapolis News.

The pain across my back became so severe that I could hardly straighten up and could not walk without dragging my feet. I would urinate frequently and would have to rise two or three times during the night, causing me to suffer from loss of sleep. And with the pain I was all run down and began to lose flesh. I saw Swamp-Root advertised and bought one bottle to try it. After taking it I felt better and could sleep all right at night. I continued to take it until I had taken four large bottles. I was entirely free from any pain in the back and began to gain in weight. I always recommend Swamp-Root to my friends as I think the cure in my case remarkable.

CLOVERPORT, KY., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31, 1909

We, herewith, publish in full Judge Moorman's proclamation to observe Arbor Day. May every man, woman and child either plant a tree Friday or encourage some one else to.

A Proclamation

OBSERVE ARBOR DAY.

TO THE PEOPLE OF BRECKENRIDGE COUNTY:

Our Governor, by proclamation, has fixed upon Friday, April 2, 1909, as Arbor Day for Kentucky. While, primarily, Arbor Day was set apart for the planting of trees, the results of its observations has shown it to be, in many ways, an occasion which demands consideration at the hands of every enlightened community. It now means, or can mean, the annual day for cleaning and beautifying each home in each community of all the states of the Union. The home and the school are the places where men are made. Home is the basis of Society, Law and Government. Clean homes and wholesome environments tend to make clean men and clean government.

Ours is a good country; ours is a good people. Nature has been kind to us, but there are too many homes, too many school houses, too many churches, too many roads and too many streets without trees and flowers and there are other evidences of a general lack of appreciation of the little things which produce beauty and happiness and cheerful environment. Let us have one real Arbor Day. Remove the unsightly and unclean. Instead of weeds and bushes, we had as well have in our yards, trees, flowers and blue grass. You strive for years to hoard for others, why not make beautiful and comfortable the present surroundings? It enhances property values.

Trusting that this may remind many of their duty to themselves, to their neighbors and to those who will follow, I am,

Yours truly,

H. DEH. MOORMAN.

Judge Breckinridge County, Ky.

TO PATRONS AND CHILDREN:

I heartily endorse the sentiment and appreciate the value of Judge Moorman's appeal for an observation of Arbor Day. In each district where school is now in session, I urge that the teacher and patrons encourage the proper planting of trees and that they assist the children. Where no school is in session, it is the duty of the patrons, led by the Trustee. I am,

Very truly,

JOEL H. PILE.

Superintendent of Schools, B. C.

DON'T WAIT.

Take Advantage Of A Cloverport Citizen's Experience Before It's Too Late.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic! Till serious kidney troubles develop! Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Cloverport citizen's experience.

A. Fallon, Railroad St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills live up to the claims made for them. My kidneys and bladder were disordered severely for twelve years. My back ached severely and when I stooped or lifted, sharp twinges darted through my loins, causing me to suffer intensely. When I first arose in the morning I was lame and sore and the slightest work exhausted me. I was also languid and at times felt very nervous. Headaches and dizzy spells were added to my affliction and too frequent passages of the kidney secretions caused me great annoyance, particularly at night when I was forced to rise from three to six times. I used but one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Fisher's drug store and received almost entire relief. I intend to continue with them and have no doubt that I will soon be entirely cured."

THE VANISHED DAYS.

Published by request of R. P., Cloverport, Ky.

Lay the just about the Julep in the camphor balls at last, For the miracle has happened and the olden days are past;

That which makes Milwaukee thirsty does not foam in Tennessee, And the lid in old Missouri is as tight locked as can be;

Oh, the comic paper Colonel and his crochets will may sigh, For the mist is waving gaily, but the South is going dry.

By the stillside on the hillside, in Kentucky all is still; For the only damp refreshment must be dipped up from the rill,

North Carolina's stately ruler gives his soda glass a shove, And discusses local option with the South Carolina Gov.;

It is useless at the fountain to be winking of the eye; For the cocktail glass is dusty, and the South is going dry.

It is water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink, We no longer hear the music of the mellow crystal clink,

When the Colonel and the Major and the General and the Judge Meet to have a little nip to give their appetites an edge;

For the egg nog now is negless and the rye has gone awry, And the Punch Bowl holds Carnations, and the South is going dry.

All the nightcaps now have tassels and are worn upon the head, Not the nightcaps that were taken when nobody went to bed;

And the breeze above the bluegrass is as solemn as is death, For it bears no pungent clove-tank on its odoriferous breath;

And each man can walk a chalk line when the stars are in the sky, For the fizz-glass now is fizzless, and the South is going dry.

Lay the just about the Julep 'neath the Chestnut tree at last, For there is but one kind of Moonshine and the olden days are past;

For the Water-Wagon rumbles through the Southland on its trip, And it helps no one to drop off to pick up the driver's whip;

For the mint bed makes a pasture and the corkscrew hangeth high, And is still along the Stillside and the South is going dry.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional condition. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willmantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 300, Willmantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, as traveling representative. His territory will be in Breckenridge and adjoining counties. Mr. Bowlds secured the position through an advertisement in the News. The Company is fortunate to get him. The Harvey oils are used extensively in Cloverport and it is expected he will have little trouble in selling them else where.

SOME INDIAN WARRIORS MY "SHADOWS END" BY BUFFALO BILL FROM TRUE TALES OF THE PLAINS

COPYRIGHT 1908, BY WILLIAM R. COOY

AFTER the Custer massacre General Miles was left in command on the Yellowstone and erected huts for his troops and stores, which were brought from the Missouri river by wagon. He built two posts, one on the Tongue river and one on the Yellowstone near where is now the city of Glendive. As soon as these were completed, instead of waiting for spring and summer, he immediately planned to keep up activity against the red foe.

The Indians greatly annoyed his supply trains, and on one occasion the train had to return on account of the strength of the Indians. This roused the general's ire, and instead of the honorific treatment he equipped it with soldiers as such and fighting men to accompany them. Sitting Bull himself notified Colonel Ota that he must not travel that way, and Miles got or old Bull and overtook him at Cedar creek. The wily chief sent a flag of truce, as he wished to pass the winter comfortably and wanted permission to hunt and trade on condition that he did not attack the soldiers. But Miles would not temporize. He sent word that there was only one peace, and that was by submission. Indians in a flag of truce they tried to trap him in the way in which General Canby lost his life in the Modoc conference in '73, but Miles "conquered" the peace and Sitting Bull. "I'll take an advantage of you under a flag of truce. You have fifteen minutes to get back to your people and fifteen minutes more to get your terms or I'll commence fighting. Either you or I have got to be boss of this part of the country."

Although the country swarmed with Indians and no reply had come, Miles attacked them with such vigor that they left many of their dead on the field, which they never liked to do, and continued a hot war for over forty miles, compelling them to abandon food, lodge-poles, camp equipment and ponies. Eventually 400 lodges and 4000 Indians surrendered and were sent to the agencies.

Sitting Bull and his hostile cronies left the main body and escaped northward, where they were pursued by a few and some other chiefs. This bitter experience was an astonishment to Sitting Bull and the Sioux, so that it left that section free from the immediate depredations. After a return to the Tongue river post and a short rest the determined commander made up an expedition to follow Sitting Bull's trail northward. Although it was obliterated by deep snow and the winter had opened with great severity, even for that region. The suffering of the troops was intense, and after a few days toward Frank Baldwin and the troops under Miles overtook and hammered old Bull on two occasions and made it so warm for him in such a cold climate that he took refuge over the Canadian border. General Miles even made application for permission from the two governments to follow him to a finish, but for some reason the higher authorities did not permit it. Sitting Bull's influence had always been shyly seconded by Gall as a fighter, and here I want to say that everybody in the "know" recognized Gall as one of the bravest and greatest of fighting men of his history, as pointed out by the red. On one occasion, in a fight with the troops, he was shot down and ridden over by the cavalry, and it is stated that an infantryman, in the excitement of the moment and to assure his death, drove his bayonet clean through his body and left it there, actually plunging him to the ground. His death seemed assured. Afterward a rainstorm came up, which revived him, and he eventually crawled off in the darkness and lived to see the fighting line in the Custer and Reno fights. Years after I saw the evidence of the wound in his stomach.

Banks of the column, and I got to know him well. A simpler minded, gentler frontiersman never lived. He was modest and courteous, calm, conspicuous mainly because of two or three unusual traits for his class—he never drank, I never heard him swear, and no man ever heard him lie.

"For years he had been Cody's faithful follower, half servant, half partner." He was Bill's "fidus Achates." Bill was his adoration. They had been boys together, and the hero worship of extreme youth was simply intensified in the man. He copied Bill's dress, his gait, his carriage, his speech—everything he could copy.

"Poor, honest hearted 'Chips!' His story was a brief one after we had launched out from where Cody left us to carry some dispatches for Terry. 'Chips' remained in his capacity as scout, though he seemed sorely to miss his partner."

"It was just two weeks after that we struck the Sioux at Slim Butte. As the head of our column drifted in among the lodges General Carr directed us to keep on down to face the bluffs to the south, and Miles pointed to a ravine opening out into the village, with the warning: 'Look out for that gully. There are Indians hidden in there, and they've knocked over some of my men.' 'Everybody was too busy just then to pay much attention to two or three

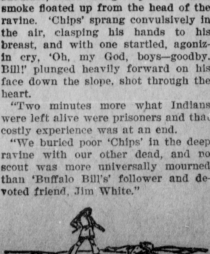

"Chips" sprang convulsively in the air. Wounded Indians in a hole. We were sure of getting them when wanted. So placing a couple of sentinels where they could warn stragglers away from its front, we formed line along the south and west of the captured village and got everything ready to resist the attack we knew they would soon make in full force.

"Half a dozen soldiers got permission to go over and join in, while the rest of us were busily hunting about for something to eat. The next thing we heard was a volley from the ravine and saw the scouts and packers scattering for cover. One soldier held his ground—shot dead. Another moment and it became apparent that not one or two but a dozen Indians were crouching somewhere in that narrow gorge, and the move to get them out assumed proportions. Lieutenant Clark of General Crook's staff sprang into the entrance, carbine in hand, and a score of cavalrymen followed, while the scouts and others went cautiously along other banks, peering warily into the cave-like darkness at the head. A square newspaper correspondent, led by that reckless filibuster Flintry of the Chicago Times, came tearing over, pencil in hand, all expenses for items, just as a second volley came from the concealed foe, and three more of their assassins dropped bleeding in their tracks. Now our people were wildly aroused, and officers and men by dozens hurried to the scene. The misty air rang with shots, and the chances looked bad for those redskins. Just as I was about to turn back, a scout from the western side I caught sight of 'Chips' on the opposite crest. All alone he was cautiously making his way on hands and knees toward the head of the ravine, where he could look down upon the Indians beneath. As yet he was protected from their fire by the bank itself, his lean form distinctly outlined against the eastern sky. He reached a stunted tree that grew on the very edge of the gorge, and there he halted, kneeling in prayer, close under his shoulder in readiness to aim and then raised himself slowly to his feet, lifted his head higher and smoke floated up from the head of the sharp, eager light shone in his face, a quick movement of his rise as though he were about to raise it to the shoulder, when—bang—a puff of white smoke floated up from the head of the ravine. 'Chips' sprang convulsively in the air, clasping his hands to his breast, and with one startled, agonized cry, 'Oh, my God, my God, my God!' Bill plunged heavily forward from his face down the slope, shot through the heart.

"Two minutes more what Indians were left alive were prisoners and the costly experience was at an end.

"We buried poor 'Chips' in the deep ravine with our other dead, and no scout was more universally mourned than 'Buffalo Bill's' follower and devoted friend, Jim White."

GOT AHEAD OF PITT.

The Run by Which George III. Outwitted His Premier.

On Jan. 19, 1805, Dr. Manners-Sutton, bishop of Norwich, was giving a dinner party in his Windsor den when his butler informed him that a gentleman wished particularly to see him, but would not give his name.

"Well, I can't come now in the middle of dinner," said the bishop. "Beg pardon, my lord, but the gentleman is very anxious to see you on important business," and the butler was so urgent that the bishop apologized to his company and went out. The gentleman who would not be denied proved to be King George III.

"How d'red do, my lord?" said he. "Come to tell you that you're archbishop of Canterbury—archbishop of Canterbury. D're accept—accept? Eh, eh?"

The bishop bowed low in token of acceptance. "All right," said his majesty. "You've got a party—see a little late here. Go back to them. Good night."

Next morning Pitt appeared at Windsor castle to inform his majesty that Archbishop Moore had died the day before and to recommend the bishop of Lincoln, Dr. Pretyman, for the vacant primacy.

"Very sorry, very sorry, indeed, Pitt," said the king, "but I offered it to the bishop of Norwich last night, and he accepted. Can't break my word."

Pitt was very angry, but the deed was done, as the king meant it should be, and so Dr. Manners-Sutton became archbishop of Canterbury and held the great office for twenty-three eventful years—Michael McDonagh in Chambers' Journal.

Clown Dogs in Demand.

There are dogs and dogs, but not all dogs are fitted for clown work in the circus or a dog and pony show. Clown dogs are a source of great amusement with the children, and when a pup is found "rich has a keen sense of the ridiculous he is the one for the sawdust ring. Sometimes pups of no particular breed will do the trick, fill the bill for harlequin roles, and the circus man is glad to get them. When a humorous dog is small and agile he is in great demand.—Chicago News.

A Curious Structure.

On the road from Clifton down to Avonmouth the traveler will pass, in the Avon gorge, a curious structure to which a singular tradition is attached—the London Tower. The story is that a person named Cook about a century ago was told by a gypsy in the Leigh woods that his only son would be killed by a serpent before he reached the age of twenty-one. To avert this he built a high tower and shut his son in the topmost room with the intention of securing him there until the fatal age was passed. However, by accident a viper was taken up in a bag to the room to light the fire, and it crept from the bag and bit the boy so that he died. Therefore the tower was called 'Cook's Folly, and that is its name to this day, whatever is the true explanation.

Practical Proof.

"Yes, my son, I want you to make yourself ambidextrous. I want you to be able to use one hand just as skillfully as you do the other."

"That's me, dad. I can lick any boy in my class with either hand."—New York World.

Ladies Representing These States Give Their Experience With Pe-ru-na.

Expressions of Gratitude for Dr. Hartman's Advice.

A Fine Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Ellen Nagle, 414 Fourth St., Green Bay, Wis., writes:

"I have often heard Peru-na praised and it is more widely known here than any other medicine, but I never knew what a splendid medicine it really was until a few weeks ago when I caught a bad cold which settled all over me.

"The doctor wanted to prescribe, but I told him I was going to try Peru-na, and sent for a bottle and tried it.

"I felt much better the next morning, and within five days I had not a trace of any lameness or any cough.

"I consider it the finest cough remedy."

Severe Throat Trouble.

Mrs. Margaret Gasaway, 212 E. 17th St., Kansas City, Mo., writes:

"I had catarrh in the worst form. Cancers of the throat had eaten both palate and tonsils out and had commenced to eat in the roof of my mouth. The best specialist had given me up.

"Then I commenced taking your medicine and will say four bottles completely cured me, but I still keep it in the house and take it whenever I take cold."

Although a cold is rarely directly fatal, yet it is a most productive source of incurable disease. Peru-na operates directly to heal the inflamed mucous membranes.

Stomach and Bronchial Diseases.

Mrs. Emily Ross Perry, poet and author of "Minnehaha Laughing Water." Has been honored by her state and given a medal in recognition of her services.

Wife of Commander Freeman G. Perry of P. Chase G. S. Port 68 and well known in G. A. R. and society circles.

Home address 819 18th Ave., N. E., Minneapolis, Minn.

"I have tried Peru-na and found it an excellent tonic and cure for catarrh. It is good for all catarrhal affections of the stomach and all diseases leading to consumption and bronchial troubles. I believe it to be one of the best medicines on the market, and thousands can testify to its cure with the same pleasure to the public that I can."

Gained Fifteen Pounds.

Mrs. Cordia Brown, R. F. D. 4, Rogersville, Tenn., writes that she can safely recommend Peru-na to all who are weak and run down, that she gained fifteen pounds while taking Peru-na.

All Run Down, No Appetite.

Mrs. Thomas Hoyer, R. F. D. 1, Montague, Mass., writes:

"As I doctored over a year without any relief and kept getting worse. I gave up all hope of ever getting well again.

"I was all run down, could eat scarcely anything. I was nervous and had such terrible pains in my right side and shoulder.

"I happened to see one of Dr. Hartman's booklets and wrote to him for advice and followed it as he said. I cannot express how grateful I feel for Dr. Hartman's kind advice and Peru-na."

Used according to the directions, Peru-na will often secure the family against colds, coughs, pneumonia, pleurisy and bronchitis.

Recommend Peru-na Very Highly for Catarrh.

Lost Sense of Smell.

Mrs. John Meyers, 31411 Creek, Ohio, writes: "I have been a sufferer from chronic catarrh for years and have thereby lost the sense of smell entirely. I had four of the best physicians in this vicinity without receiving any benefit whatever.

"Now I am once more a well woman. I find Peru-na to be the best medicine in the world, as it has done me more good than any physician could have done for me. My friends say I look ten years younger. I tell them that Peru-na did it. I can't thank you enough for your free advice."

The Nasal Mucous Membrane.

The nasal mucous membrane is one of the most important mucous surfaces of the body, since the nerves of smell are distributed to it, and the slightest impairment of it leads at once to a partial or complete loss of smell.

Catarrh is the most frequent source of degeneration of this membrane. This membrane is continuous with the lining of the throat, ears and frontal sinuses, and nasal catarrh soon spreads to these parts unless cured promptly.

Peru-na is the proper remedy in all stages of catarrh, and is often the only necessary remedy except some complications exist. But of course it takes more time to cure cases of long standing, especially in the atrophic stage.
